

KLCM Advisors, Inc.

Form CRS Client Relationship Summary

March 20, 2026

KLCM Advisors, Inc. (KLCM) is an investment adviser registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC); registration does not imply a certain level of skill or training. Please note that brokerage and investment advisory services and fees differ, and it is important that you understand these differences. Free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals at Investor.gov/CRS, providing educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers, and investing.

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

We offer investment advisory services to retail investors, including:

- Equity, fixed income, and balanced portfolio management. We also work as part of our client's financial team to consult on issues related to the portfolios that we manage.
- All accounts are reviewed at least quarterly for asset allocation and portfolio composition. Each quarter, clients receive a written investment report consisting of a summary and appraisal showing all holdings by asset class and KLCM's commentary on the investment environment.
- KLCM provides investment management services on a discretionary basis with respect to security selection. KLCM will seek client approval before changing a client's asset allocation.
- The minimum account size for management is $500,000. An exception can be made based on investment client type, account size, relationship size, service requirements, and other factors.

For additional information, please see our Form ADV, Part 2A Brochure ("Brochure"), Items 4 and 7, available at <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov>

Conversation Starters - Ask your financial professional:

- Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not?
- How will you choose investments to recommend to me?
- What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education, and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

What fees will I pay?

Management fees are generally based on a percentage of assets. The standard fee for equities is 1.0% per year on equity assets and 0.6% per year on fixed income assets. Management fees are negotiable, and KLCM does not charge advisory fees to certain individuals, including employees and their family members.

- We charge management fees as a percentage of assets that are billed quarterly in arrears. It is a quarterly rate applied to the average month-end market value for the previous quarter. The more assets in an account, the more the investor will pay in fees. Therefore, KLCM has an incentive to encourage investors to increase the size of their accounts.
- Management fees that are fixed are billed quarterly in arrears and based upon the negotiated rate.

Additional costs incurred by investors consist of trading commissions, custodian fees, and mutual fund and exchange-traded fund expenses.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand the fees and costs you are paying.

For additional information, please see Items 5 and 6 in our Brochure, available at <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov>

Conversation Starter - Ask your financial professional:

- Please help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money, and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we must act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means.

- Third-Party Brokerage - KLCM aggregates trades for multiple clients facilitated by third-party brokers. Some clients will pay higher commissions and security transfer fees than if the security was purchased or sold only for them in their custodial account. KLCM also trades with broker-dealers that provide research services to us. This creates an incentive to use those broker-dealers and results in clients paying higher commissions than execution-only rates. Commissions vary among broker-dealers and can be as high as approximately $.05 per share.
- Schwab Advisor Network - Because KLCM pays Schwab for client referrals, we have a potential incentive for clients to hold their accounts at Schwab.
- Personal Trading - Employees purchase and sell the same securities as clients and can invest differently than we recommend to clients. To address this conflict, we require employees to follow personal trading rules, including pre-trade approval requirements and restrictions on trading before known client trades.
- Gifts - KLCM's gift and entertainment policy allows only nominal, customary gifts or business entertainment, but these activities still create potential conflicts.
- CCO - Our Chief Compliance Officer also serves in investment roles, which creates a conflict we manage through oversight and controls

Conversation Starter - Ask your financial professional:

- How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

How do your financial professionals make money?

Our financial professionals are compensated with salary and bonus. Compensation levels are driven by the firm's success, which is driven by an increase in assets under management. Our fees are charged predominantly on a percentage of assets formula, and as a result, our financial professionals are incentivized to increase our assets under management. This is potentially a conflict of interest as our professionals are incentivized to recommend that clients increase the size of their accounts managed by KLCM.
